CHRONICLE

SOUTHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

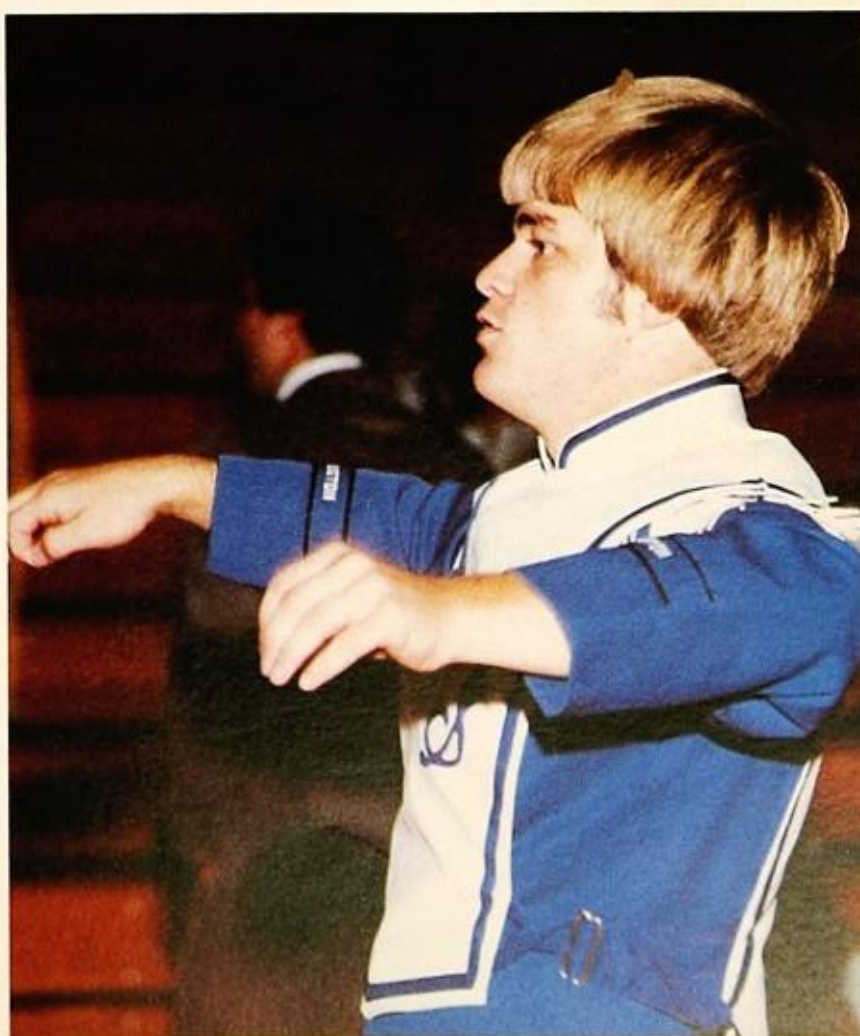

SOUTHINGTON, CONNECTICUT

As we begin to say good-bye to SHS, the class of 1983 remembers . . .

The times we spent together

... alone

The times we spent learning

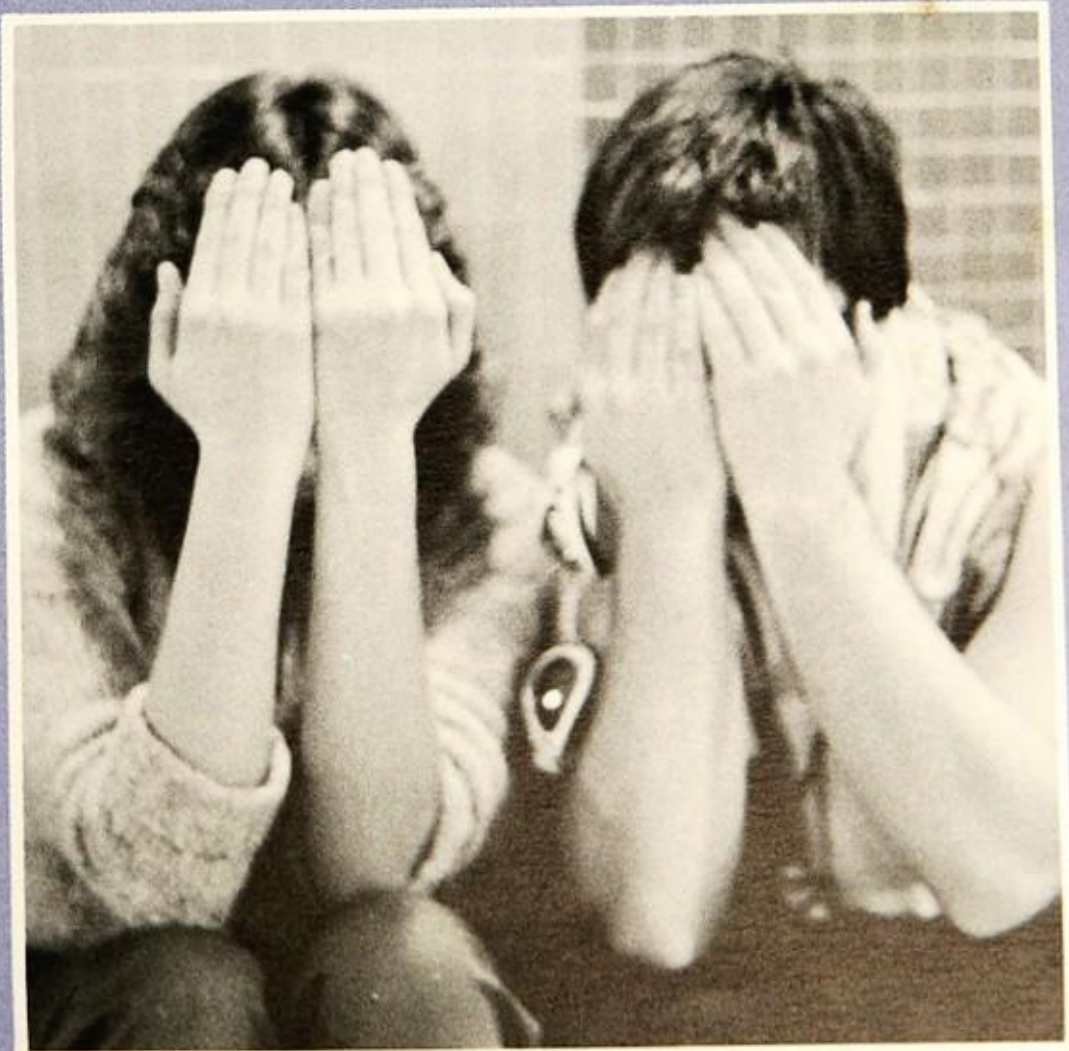

... playing

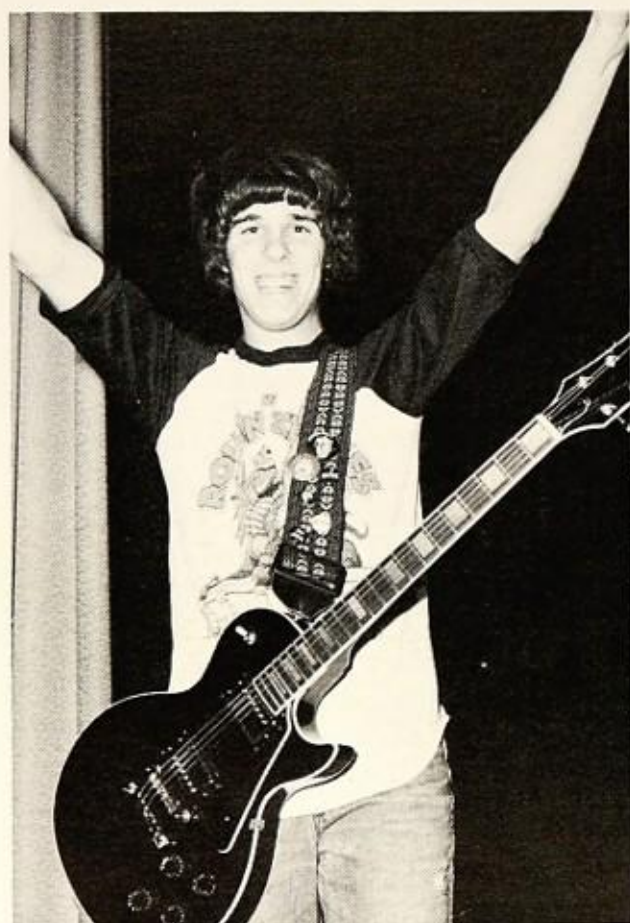

The times we spent laughing

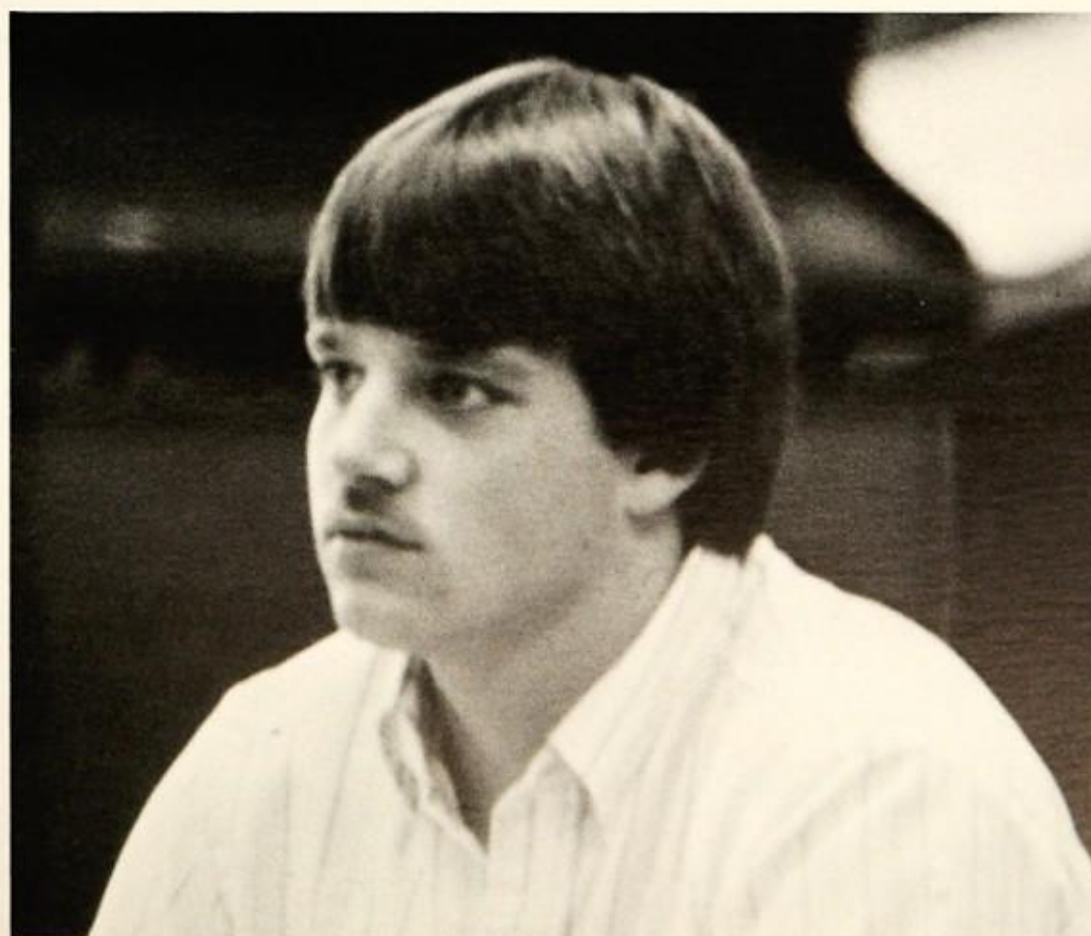

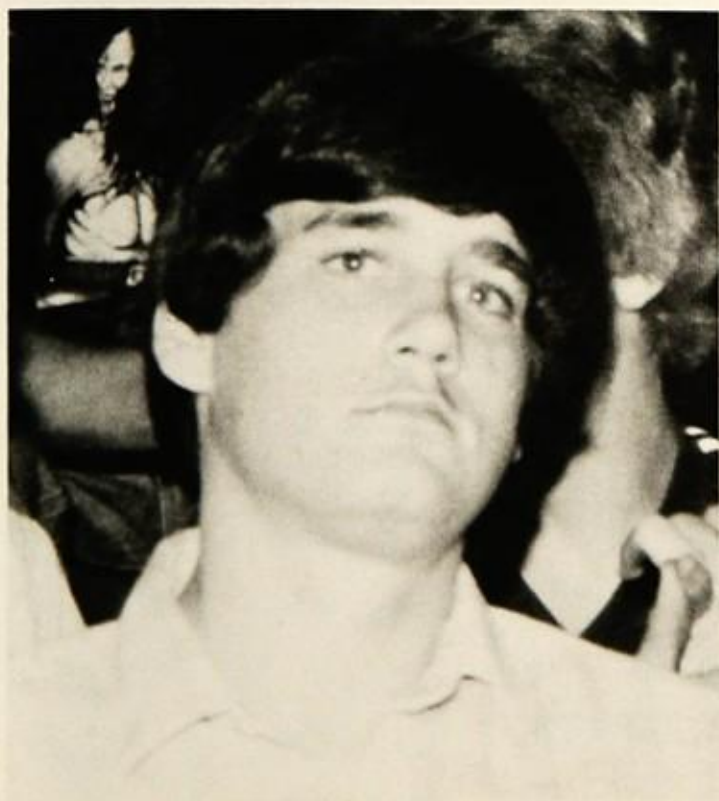

... crying

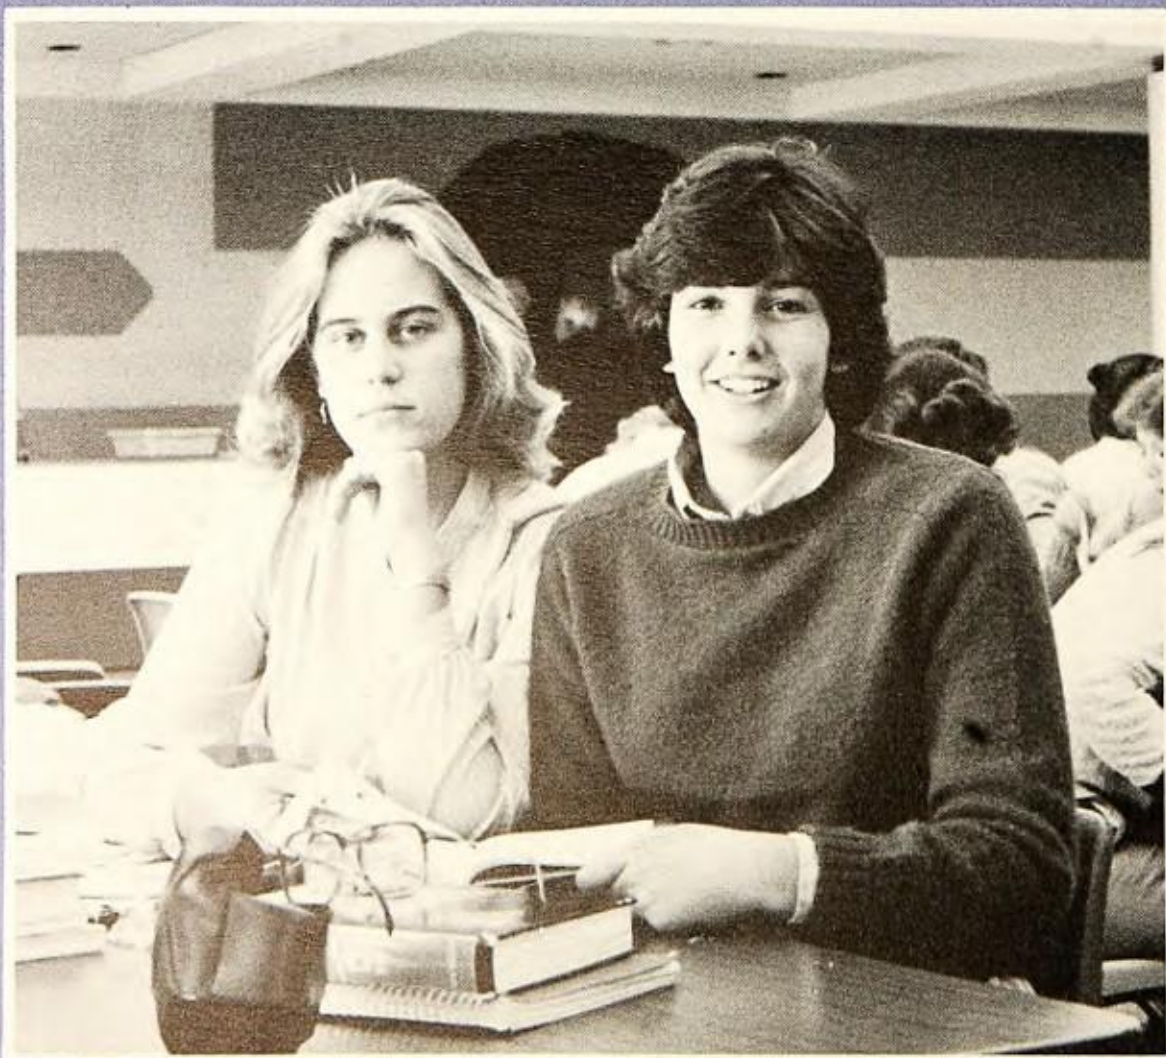

The times we spent winning

... losing

The times we spent in friendship

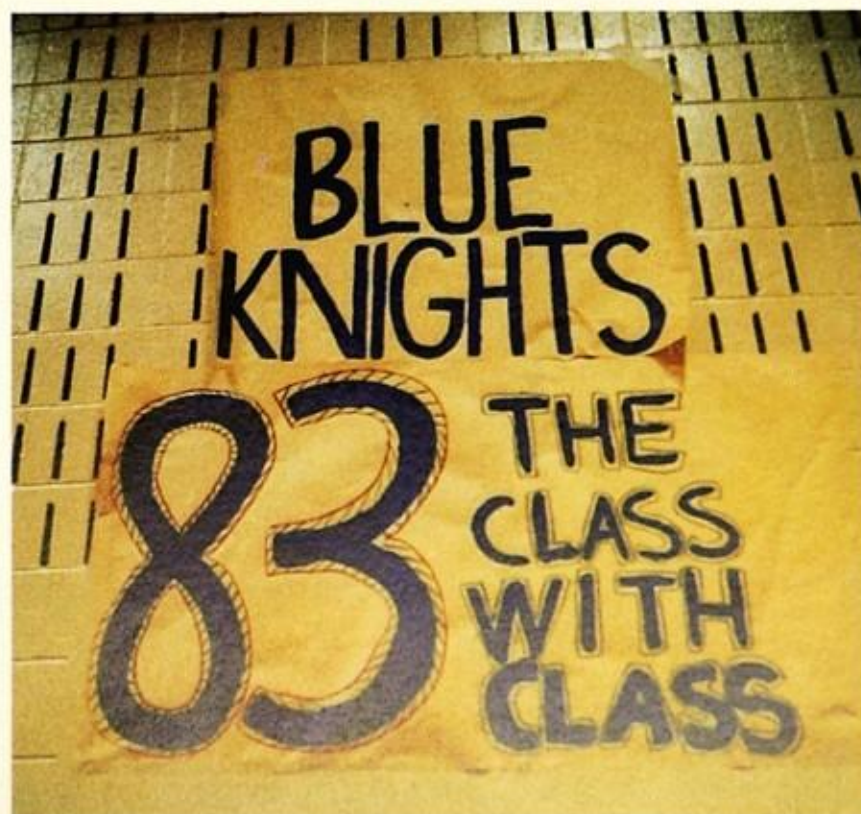

... with courage and strength

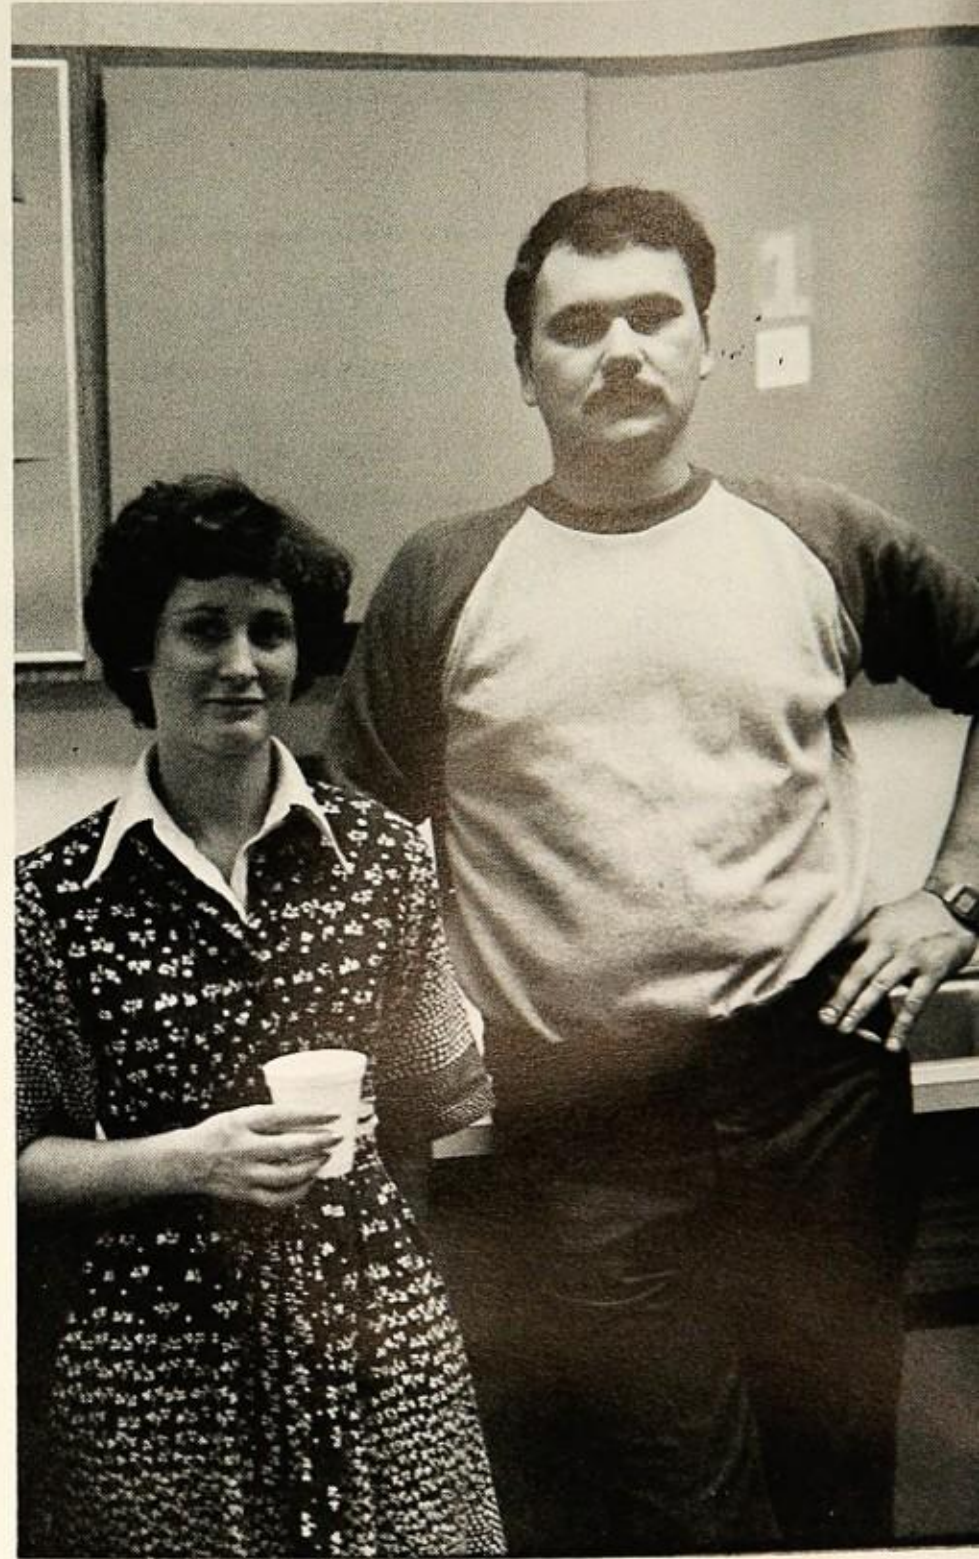

We will always remember

... the way to be '83!

Miss Cheryl Jankura

Mr. William Boyles

Miss Jodi Petti

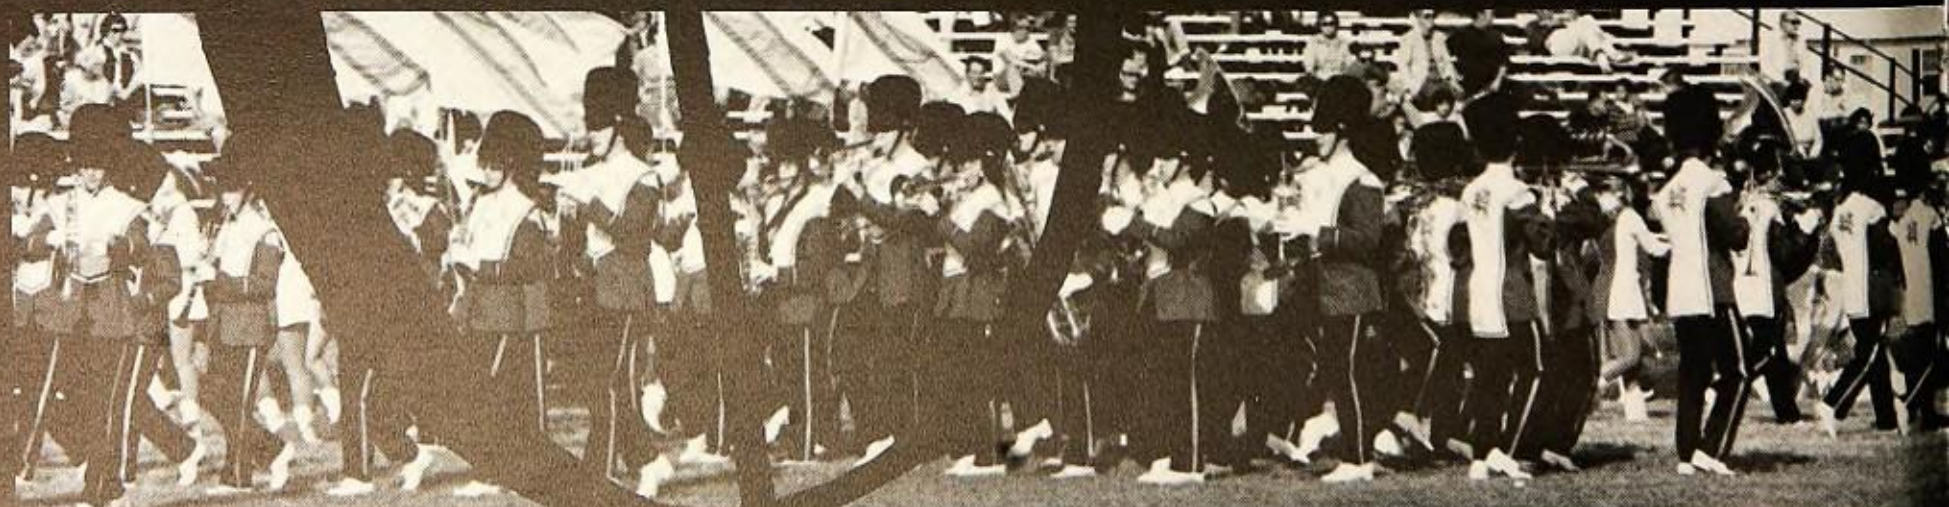

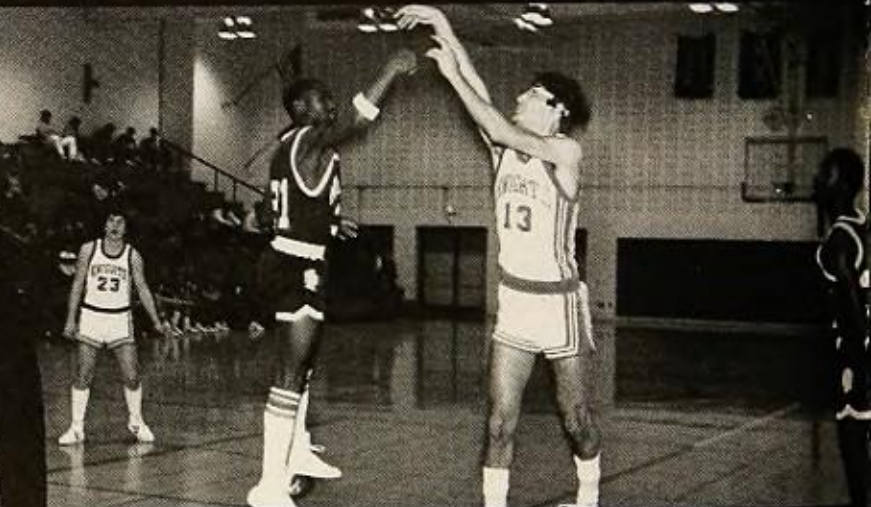

Miss Debbe Benjamin

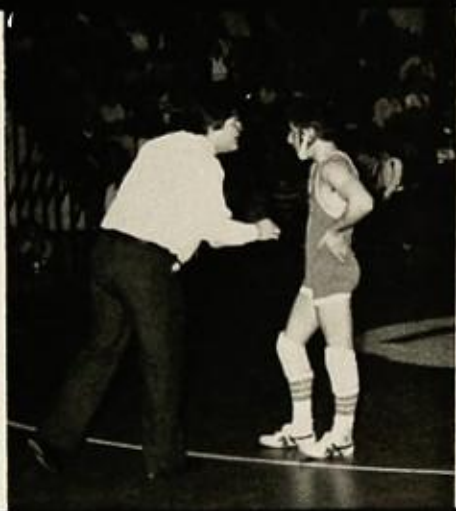

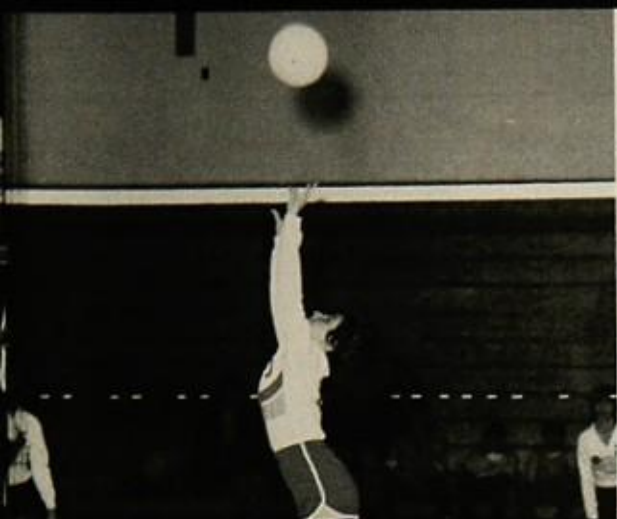

For your guidance, time, and friendship -

For your encouragement, patience, and love —

We, the senior class of 1983, thank you.

The depth of our appreciation is immeasurable and the memories of our years together will live forever.

THE DAYS OF OUR CHRONICLE

Help! I'm having a problem with these peanut butter cookies!

Thank goodness for homeroom!

"If they could see me now . . ."

You don't like my magic marker castle?!

Oh well! I'll start my diet tomorrow.

Do you think I'll make Vogue?

Two heads are better than one!

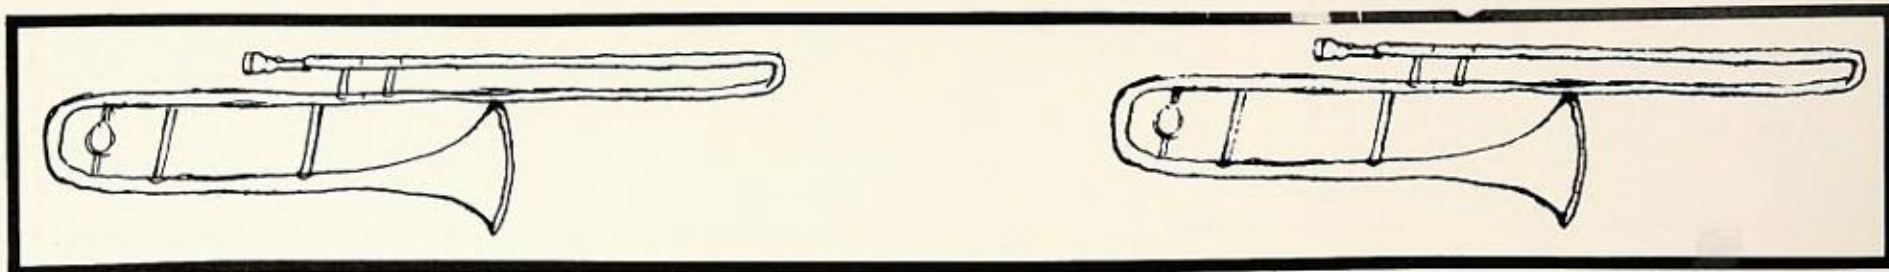

Don't look at me in that tone of voice!

Now . . . How do we get out??

SEIZURES

Officers (of 1'sers)-A small group of individuals elected by their peers to organize and supervise the class activities; dedicated to serve their fellow students to the best of their ability. This year's officers set high standards so that everyone would know, "83 is the class to be!" This year's officers are the following: President-Michael Graziano, Vice President-Lisa Majeski, Treasurer-Maureen Flynn, Ass't. Treasurer-Lynn Mastrianni, Corresponding Secretary-Christine Welch, Recording Secretary-Mary Dowler.

PAST OFFICERS: Sophomore Year; President-Lynn Mastrianni, Vice President-Lisa Majeski, Treasurer-Michael Graziano, Ass't. Treasurer-Todd Pasco, Secretary-Mary Dowler, Ass't. Secretary-Suzanne Hoy,

Junior Year; President-Mike Graziano, Vice President-Lisa Majeski, Treasurer-Mary Sullivan, Ass't. Treasurer-Maureen Flynn, Corr. Secretary-Lynn Gianatti, Recording Secretary-Chris Welch.

Officers

There's our psyched-out Prez.!

Taking notes comes with ease since Mary has been our Recording Secretary.

The officers work as one unit to make the class the best it can be.

102 Taping posters is one of Maureen's specialties.

Chris is always ready to make a phone call for the benefit of the class.

Lisa will go to the extreme if it means bringing in $$$ for the class.

Lynn's always there when the class needs her help.

P resident

Try it, you'll like it.

Get down on it!

The only thing left will be the frozen smile on a photograph; everlasting words engraven in a sloppy autograph.

These never recapture our lost bygone days when we led simple lives with more carefree ways. Knowledge gained is intangible and we will not lose it.

The Final Goodbye to SHS will come when we choose it.

While creating our fantastic class of 1983, we have somehow grown up and must now face adult society. Emotion, learning, friendship, change, and now the future are all part of this life experience. My hope is that you create a better tomorrow for yourself with the realization of any dreams hidden in your heart. Good luck to each of you and to us all in the future.

Sincerely,

*Mike

Gentle Friends:

Our lives together at Southington High School have completed the great circle — the end now becomes part of the beginning. For us it is a time when sadness over your parting merges gently with the joy that the remembrance of our friendship brings.

You have been so much more than a class to us. In the innermost chambers of our hearts you have become the embodiment of the word family. You have allowed us to become a part of your dreams, both those fulfilled and those forgotten. You gave us the opportunity to work beside you, not as advisors, but rather as friends. In allowing us to strive with you to obtain your dreams we have come to realize our own.

Soon you will begin a new life. But this does not mean that you must forget the lives you leave behind. Keep alive the memories of what we were — of what we are. We ask only that you take into the future what you brought to Southington High School three short years ago: a strong sensitivity, a quiet dignity, and a gentle beauty.

More than you know ... and more than we can ever say, we feel a special thankfulness for having known you. And if our words lack a refined eloquence, we pray that they convey the gentle sincerity we feel now within our hearts. Thank you for being yourselves, for in so being you have allowed us to find that special joy in life — the joy of belonging.

All our love,

*Cheryl A. Jankus

Advisers

Ten dollars, do I hear ten dollars?

What motivation...

Future candidate for the replacement of the Statue of Liberty...

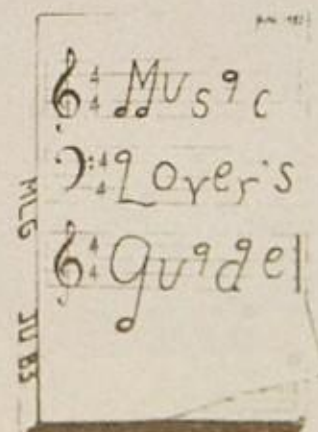

Come on down to the Magazine Drive!

Good thing he took weight-training!

Magazine Drive

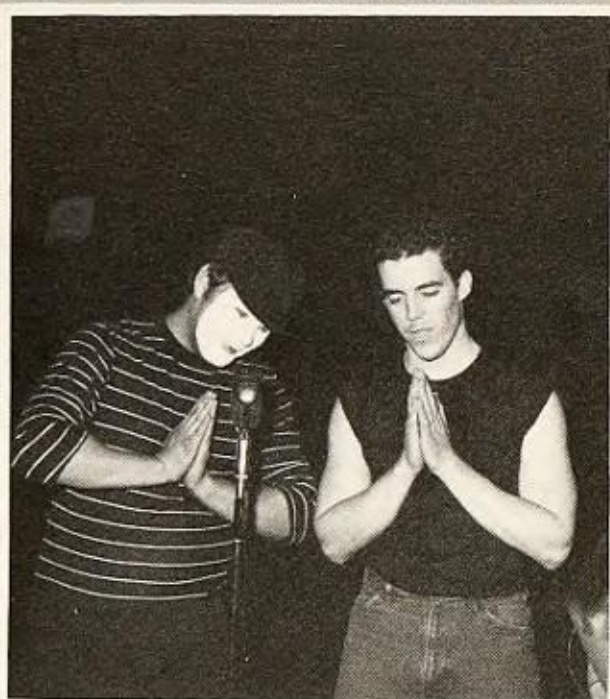

Magazine Drive, (mag'a•zen; driv)-The major fundraising event held in the beginning of Sophomore year. It was easy to see the class of 1983 was destined for greatness. As Sophomores, we raised $27,700 through our Magazine Drive. The largest sum of money ever recorded at Southington High School! This is just one example of our dedication; a trait that has distinguished our class from all others.

Junior Show (joon'yer:sho)-An age old, traditional event, which demonstrates the creativity and talent of the given class. Held in the Central Elementary Auditorium, unfortunately there is no auditorium at the High School: Our Junior Show "The Night of Knights" was definitely the best night of all our nights together at S.H.S. The hours of preparation were often tiring, but they only helped to bring us all closer together than we ever thought we could become. On March 15, 1982 at 8 p.m. it all came together, the curtain opened to a packed house and we put on the best Junior Show Southington High has ever seen. The class of 1983 has a surplus of talent and the audience enjoyed every minute. But, the best part was that we, the performers, had an even better time! Too bad some nights can't last forever, but we will have our memories for a lifetime.

Junior

... And Lord please let this white junk come off my face!

Let's veg out!

One seniorly sensation

Let's catch them before they get away.

Lookout Barbara Streisand!

... and they think their singing is inspiring!

Hey Mag, where's your alligator?

The senior class's own little midgets.

Show

Everyone got involved in the show ...

What is this strange creature on my shoulder?

Mirror, mirror on the wall, we definitely have it all!

You've got a friend.

I love Rock-n-Roll ...

Fly, be free.

On your mark, get set, GO!

No caption necessary.

Check out the one in the pink dress . . .

What will we tell your mother if we can't get our faces apart?

Gee wiz, I'm having a swell time . . .

The beat goes on . . .

Proms are inspiring.

Wait — I can't get up!

Thought we'd dress up for the occasion.

C'mon Baby, Let's do the TWIST!

Junior

Junior Prom (joon'yeh; prom) - A type of formal dance held annually during the Junior year of high school. The lights were low, the music was loud, and the atmosphere was exciting on the night of November 7, 1981. The Junior Prom, "Just You-N-Me", was an extra special evening for everyone who attended.

No Mike, you can't eat the streamers!

Boy, these are real after all.

Look mom, no cavities!

I just saw a U.F.O.

What a happy couple.

What is this strange apparatus?

Caught you in the act Lynn!

Peek-a-boo!

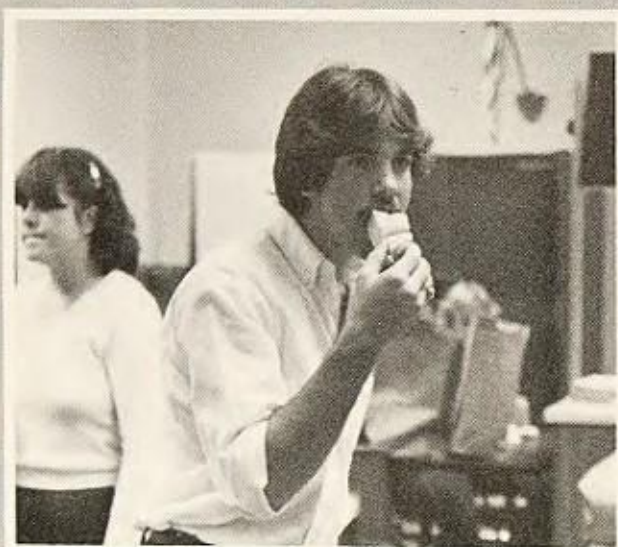

Prom

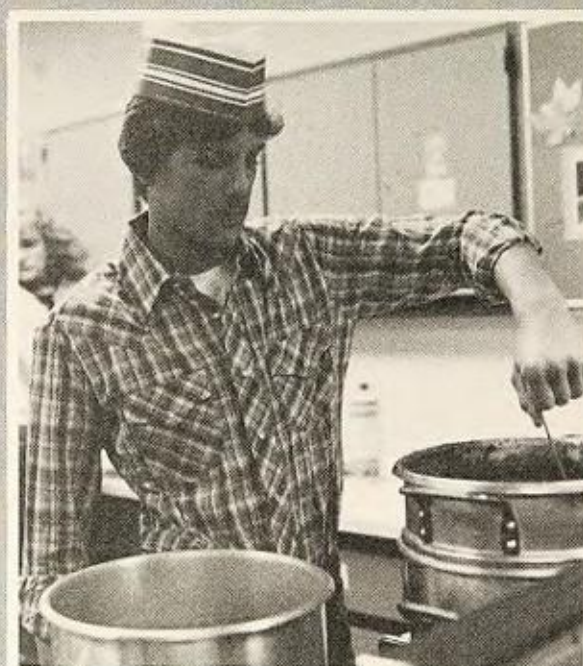

Spaghetti Supper-(spa-get-e'sap-r)-An event in which a given class prepares long strands of pasta; sometimes over-cooked or under-cooked; covered with a zesty sauce, sometimes too zesty, and given to over-anxious people in the High School Cafeteria. Mmm... everyone who participated in the Supper can recall that rich, tasty spaghetti (or was it?) John Goff and Mike Graziano, chairmen, are to be commended on a job well done. Not only did our class profit from this evening, but it was an enjoyable evening too. Remember when the football team walked into the cafe demanding that they be served immediately? ... or when we ran out of bread and had to run to the store and buy more? ...

Spaghetti Supper

Can he eat it all in one bite?

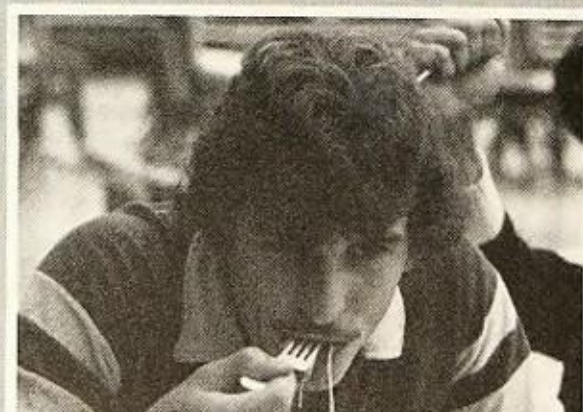

Who put the shoe in the sauce?

Ever since we complained, they don't feed us anymore ...

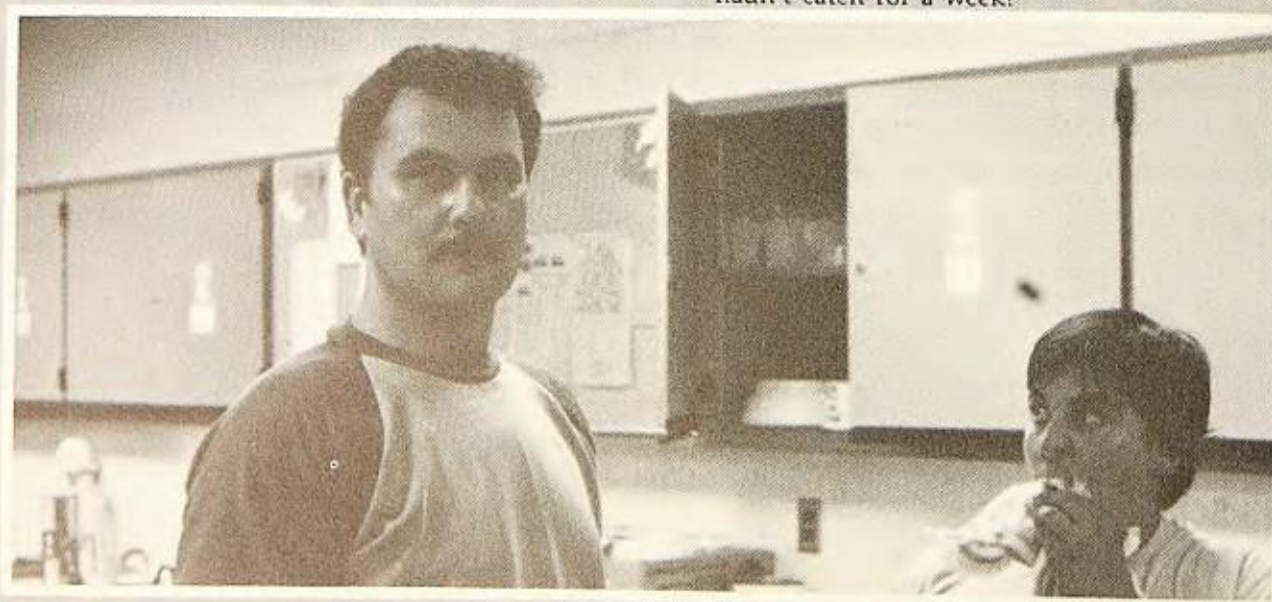

Hi! I'm the Pillsbury Dough Boy!

He thinks it tastes good; you would to if you hadn't eaten for a week!

Setting up for the Supper ...

Hurry and eat the evidence before they find out what I put in it ...

What do you mean, "NO SPAGHETTI LEFT!" ... The football team hasn't been served yet!

Car Wash (kär:wosh) Public service activities in which automobiles are scrubbed to perfection by dedicated students in order to raise money for the class. Held on Saturday's from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in various parking lots throughout the town. A car wash can really be a traumatic experience; unless of course you enjoy having cold water and suds run down your back. However, water fights can be fun and they certainly make the day more interesting.

Car Washes

Need I say MAUR?

Let's go make fools out of ourselves ...

Are you sure you already washed this car?

Little does he know ...

This is the way we wash our cars ...

What did you say about a bird?

Don't move or I'll shoot!

An exchange student's reaction to a car wash.

The boys club of America.

You light up my life ...

I stand behind my Man.

He's the pose and the clothes and the make-up.

Here she comes, Miss America.

Why did you have to buy that super glue?

Aren't I cute?

Check out those sexy legs!

Fashion Show

Fashion Show-(fash'un;sho)-a live production whose sole purpose is to display the latest fashions. Held October 20, 1982 in where else, but the S.H.S. Cafeteria. The class of 1983 is definitely a tradition setter and the Fashion Show is just one example of our many new ideas. Special thanks go to Colleen Gray, Chairperson for her hard work and the hours she spent in preparation. You can't have a fashion show without fashions and we were lucky enough to have Riccio's and Bridal World sponsor our show. Their kindness and generosity will never be forgotten. Along with its value as a fund raiser, The fashion show was an excellent opportunity to "ham it up" on the stage and everyone involved had a terrific time!

Broadway, here I come!

Presenting today's latest fashions ...

Have a coke and a smile.

Caught in the act!

Tony just can't boogie no more!

All right girls, watch me: 1 and 2 and ...

Don't get nervous, it's only a camera!

Dances

The dance/dan(t)s/v.i.; an occasion characterized by loud music and strange movement of the body. Held on selected Friday evenings from 7:00pm to 10:30pm in the SHS cafeteria. Although it takes hard work and determination to sponsor a dance, in the end it is well worth it. Only those who have sold tickets or put up decorations know the real effort that goes into making a dance successful. But everyone, from punks to preps, who attends has a fantastic time because the class of 1983 always gets you out on the floor!

Morning Announcements

Morning announcements are just what their name says they are. At 7:50 a.m., over the loudspeaker, come the mysterious voices who announce what day it is and what day tomorrow will be (as if you couldn't figure it out yourself). These voices tell us some pretty important details about what is going on in the school. They also tell us what the weather for the day is (very valuable information). For the ten people listening, this is a blessing. For the rest of us, we are not too well-informed.

ROPE

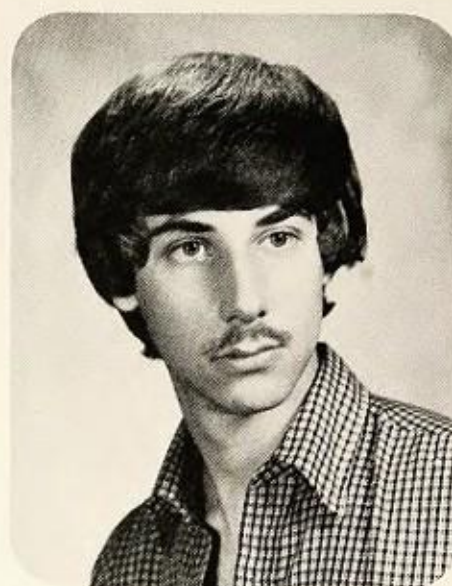

No, it's not something to hold onto when you're falling. ROPE stands for Reach Out to People through Education. For those who have dropped out of school, but now desire an SHS diploma, ROPE is a secondary alternative program. Taught by four part time teachers, ROPE is an intensified program that requires much self-discipline by the students, because most of them have full time jobs after ROPE.

Class Rings

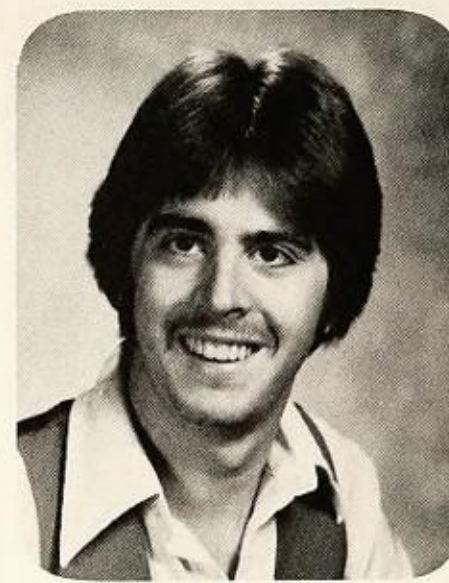

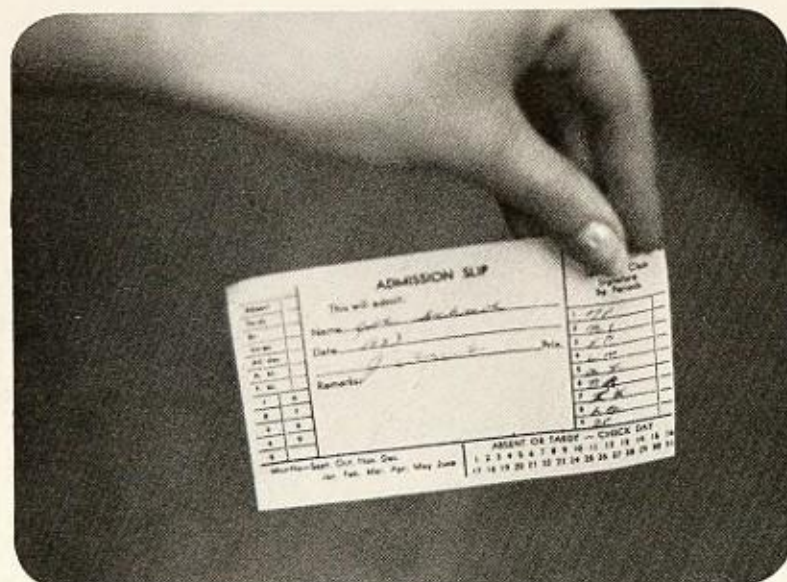

Every year a company comes to our high school to sell students class rings. They come in many different styles, shapes and colors. A student has many options on his class ring which makes it special and different from everyone else's. The stone can even be his birth stone. Some students wear their class ring all the time while others let them sit on their dressers collecting dust.

Queen Street

Few people can live in Southington and not experience the legendary "Queen Street". There seems to be more stores, motels, gas stations and restaurants on Queen Street in Southington than there are anywhere else in the entire state of Connecticut. The confusion on the street makes people wonder why so many stores are all together in one place. Some think the stores want business from I-84, but their real reason is that they all want to be near a national landmark — SHS!

Phones

For most students at SHS the phones located at both ends of the Cafeteria are a necessity. Some students have to call Mom or Dad when they forget their gym clothes, homework, or a text book. Others call to get their work schedules or for a ride home after school still others use the phones just to talk. Actually, the phones are a vital link between the students in SHS and the outside world.

First Snowfall

A natural phenomena that occurs every winter that raises havoc in the Cafeteria and classrooms in SHS is snowfall. When snow falls, students no longer ask questions about the history of Europe or Einstein's theory of relativity. The new question asked is "Are we getting out early?" When snow falls during the school day, it becomes the best known excuse to get out of school early. If it falls at night, hundreds of students can be found with their ears pressed against a radio in the morning.

*Music is so many things —
It's love, it's hope, it's friends
And the most important note
Is music never ends.*

*The final verse of our song
Is over — We move on,
But the tune shall not be lost
For music's never gone.*

*We composed our song together.
It's become a piece of art.
May that we never lose it,
Even when we're far apart.*

*So, thank you, friends, so very

For what you've been so long
Thank you for the years we've

Class of 1983 Diary

A brief chronological review of the many events that have made our years at Southington High so memorable.

Sophomore Year

SEPTEMBER

A month of firsts- first day of school, first S.H.S. morning announcement, first time getting lost. The Welcome Sophomore Dance helped us to feel more at home, although finding our way around was still a problem. ("Is there really an elevator?" "I think so, but I heard it does not go up to the fourth floor.") Talk about gullible, but by the end of the month we were feeling like old pros at S.H.S. life. Well, almost.

OCTOBER

Things began shaping up for the Class of 83. We suddenly found ourselves breaking the school record for the Magazine Drive. ("Of course you want to buy a subscription to 'Field and Stream'. Please. It's for school, Grandma.") This great accomplishment was just one- many more were sure to follow. We also got our first taste of true school spirit in October with the Fall Pep Rally. ("Nobody told us to make posters.")

NOVEMBER

With a little more confidence and a month more of experience, we screamed as loudly as the upper-classmen at the Thanksgiving Day Pep Rally. ("Isn't it nice to have posters this time?")

DECEMBER

The holiday season approached to find us preparing for our performance in the Christmas Assembly. Our production of "The Little Match Girl" was unique, to say the least, and was a fun way to end school before our Christmas vacation. ("Christmas? Shopping? Those stores are as crowded as my locker!")

JANUARY

After our Christmas break we were eager (???) to get back to work, or so the teachers told us. ("Aren't you glad you're back? Now you can start studying for my mid-term. By the way, nobody ever passes MY mid-term. Nobody.") Well, we survived those tests, but they brought about the same question from everyone- "How much longer til summer?"

MARCH

For members of the band, March held the Dartmouth Exchange. The musical members of our class were able to make new friends from among the members of the Dartmouth Band who were lucky enough to visit Southington. ("So this is Southington. Is it on a map?")

APRIL

Spring Fever took control of everyone. Books suddenly became heavier and the hours of homework seemed longer. We were already planning what we would do once summer finally arrived. ("How can the teachers expect us to do homework now? It's PRACTICALLY summer!")

MAY

During May we realized that the end was in sight, so things weren't so bad. Near the end of the month we held the Farewell Seniors Dance, which was a big success proving once again that the Class of 83 was destined for greatness.

JUNE

Some members of the Sophomore Class started the month by helping out at the Special Olympics. Others just studied for finals. ("Did they make the schedule up yet?" "Yeah. It goes one, four, seven, then two, five, six, and the last day is eight and make-up.") We passed in our books, took our final exams and watched the Class of 81 graduate. ("Hey, doesn't that make us Juniors?" "I guess it does. Well, we made it through Sophomore year.")

Junior Year

SEPTEMBER

Our Junior year came along very quickly. ("What do you mean school starts next week? I haven't even gotten a tan yet!") During our Junior year, our class became unified and developed a personality all its own. We established an identity as The Class of 1983.

OCTOBER

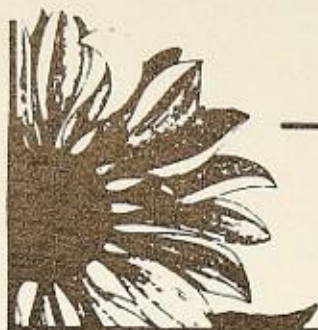

Our spaghetti supper was quite an experience. ("Where is the spaghetti?" "This is the spaghetti." "You've got to be kidding me.") Well, at least all our customers got service with a smile!

NOVEMBER

The Junior Prom, held in the school cafeteria, was a night to remember. (Well, at least for some people.) Gowns and tuxedos somehow didn't look quite right in the room where chaos usually rules. After a bit of getting used to the incredible change, everyone had a great time.

DECEMBER

The Class of 1983 strikes again! Who can forget our incredible performance of "Grandma Got Run Over By A Reindeer"? Our interpretation of the song was very imaginative, at the very least. The Christmas Assembly of 1981 would not have been complete without our appearance. Although the assembly was fun, we all anticipated our Christmas vacation with great eagerness. ("Well, what else would you expect?")

JANUARY

January is not a month known for too much excitement, especially because it is the month of mid-term exams. As Juniors, many of us had nightmares caused by our memories of mid-terms during our Sophomore year. ("I hope I can pass at least some of them this year. Last year's mid-terms were a total disaster. I never knew you could get a NEGATIVE score on a test!") But from battle experience, most of us were better prepared for those dreaded tests.

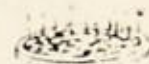

FEBRUARY

What more appropriate thing could we do during the month of February than have a Valentine's Day Dance? Nothing. (If there was something more appropriate to do, we didn't think of it!) It was a snowy night, but many people managed to brave the storm to come dance their feet off. ("Did you ask her to dance yet?" "No. I'm not gonna ask her. What if she says she doesn't want to dance with me?" "I say you should go for it. After all, Custer took a chance.")

APRIL

During April the members of our class had two great opportunities to show off their impressive talent. First, our Junior Show, A Night of Knights, was a great success. In fact, it was the most successful Junior Show ever to be presented by S.H.S. students. Weeks of practice and dedication payed off on that night when no one's contribution went unnoticed. ("Would somebody please make him get off stage? HE's been out there for half an hour. Talk about a ham!") A few weeks after Junior Show was the annual Student Council Talent Show. Once again our class proved itself by winning first place in the competition. Admittedly, some people got a little carried away by success. ("Did you hear that we've been offered a contract to perform in New York?" "Really? I didn't think we were that good.")

MAY

Many Juniors were washed better than the cars at our Car Wash. Held in the parking lot of Pizza Hut, our Car Wash attracted a variety of customers. ("Are we really going to clean that eighteen-wheeler? It's huge. We'll be here all day!") Well, it didn't last quite all day, but the Car Wash was fun. And tiring.

JUNE

The final month of our Junior Year was met with mixed emotions. We were glad to have a vacation, but most of us were a little afraid, but excited, about becoming Seniors. ("Can you believe that when we come back in the Fall we'll actually be Seniors?" I know, and I STILL haven't found the elevator." Are you really still looking for the elevator?"

Senior Year

SEPTEMBER

Finally!!! During the first month of school, members of the Senior Class tried to make the incoming Sophomores feel welcome. ("Remember how we felt when we were Sophomores?" "Sure, but were we that short? I think one of them just bumped his face on my knee when he walked into me!") Well, they may

We're passing it on to Southington

at Southington Savings Bank

We're excited - excited because of what we see around us. The growth in Southington that's come partially as a result from our passing on your savings in the form of loans. There's no doubt that we as a country have been on a rocky road of late. A road which has been closed to some who would buy their first home because of high interest rates. But the road blocks are disappearing. We at Southington Savings Bank sense a turnaround of public spirit and a positive attitude towards where we're going.

Here in Southington we have a lot to be thankful for. We have good schools, hospitals, churches, shops and shopkeepers, tireless volunteers working for a paycheck of satisfaction and self accomplishment and unsung heroes around every Southington street corner. They're your neighbors, your family, your friends.

These are the people that are "passing it on". Passing on the Southington spirit of community. And we're proud - no we're "Southington proud" of having been a part of it since 1860...being there when you need us. But we're not so bold as to say that it's only us that have helped you. You've helped us by placing your faith (and your hard-earned cash) in our bank!

Whether you know it or not, your account helps us to keep passing on valuable financial resources to the community, making all of us stronger for it.

The role of a home town bank has been an important one throughout America's history. It's meant that some communities have forged ahead because of deep seated mutual beliefs in each other.

We're comfortable with that role and we're committed to playing it for a long time to come. So, if you like the idea of helping one another, why not open an account with us today. And pass it on.

have seemed short, but the sophomores appreciated the Sophomore Breakfast and the Welcome Sophomore Dance, both sponsored by Senior Class.

OCTOBER

Another first for the school: A fashion show held by the Senior Class who else? Our models came in all shapes and sizes. ("Boy, that girl has awfully hairy legs." "That was a boy, Silly." "In a gown?") As you can imagine, it was definitely not a typical fashion show.

NOVEMBER

November brought out diligent workers who constructed the float for the annual Thanksgiving Day Game against Plainville. Many cold hours were spent in Sloper's barn during the weeks of preparation. ("Would you come over here for a second? I could use some help." "I would come if my feet weren't frozen to the floor.") Those freezing nights proved to be worthwhile, because the float came out beautifully.

DECEMBER

In our Senior year we welcomed the holiday season with Candy-Gram messages and another unforgettable Christmas assembly. ("Maybe we should think about doing these assemblies professionally. After three years of practice, we're getting quite good at them.")

JANUARY

As everyone knows, January is not incredibly stimulating at SHS. Preparations for our class play began and class dues were collected. ("What do you mean I owe $200.00? That is absolutely ridiculous. I just come to school here, I don't pay rent.")

FEBRUARY

Sweethearts got a treat in February with our Valentine's Day messages. Graduation seemed a little bit closer when we began taking measurements for caps and gowns. ("I don't want to wear a dress to graduation - I'm a boy." "Everybody wears dresses at graduation. It's a tradition. Besides, they aren't really dresses.") Also during February was a near-blizzard. Unfortunately, it happened on a weekend and no school days were lost. ("I can't believe that every time it snows, it's on a weekend.") our friendship.

-Beethoven

The class of 1983 has built firm and eternal foundations which will never be shaken. As the editors of the 1983 Chronicle we strove to put together a book which will serve as a reminder of the times together as friendships were formed and love was shared. As the final strains of our symphony drift through the air, may the song stay constantly in our hearts. Each individual member of our class added a note, a rhythm, or an accent which created the beautiful harmony. And as each of us goes his separate way we will forever be a part of the melody.
